

FREEDOM OF INFORMATION AND PRIVACY ACTS

SUBJECT Dorothea Lange

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

PAUL SCHUSTER TAYLOR
Supplementary Information

121-13556-X6
FBI
ALL INFORMATION CONTAINED
HEREIN IS UNCLASSIFIED
DATE 1-6-98 BY SP7004/2

250433

Additional positions, etc.

Academico corresponsal, Academia Nacional de Ciencias "Antonio Alzate" (Mexico)
Latin-American Fellow, John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation, 1930.

Chief Investigator, Social Science Research Council project "Mexican labor in the United States" 1927, 1928, 1929.

Service in United States Marine Corps, AEF, 1917-1919, advancing to Captain.

Pacific Coast Consultant, National Commission on Law Observance and Enforcement, 1930, for studies on crime and the foreign born.

Investigator, on grant from Rockefeller Foundation, studying self-help cooperatives, 1933.

Expert testimony before Congressional Committees, on problems relating to structural aspects of agriculture, effects of mechanization, drought and other forces, migration, displacement of smaller farmers, agricultural labor, etc., as follows:-

Senate Committee on Unemployment and Relief, 1938. (See Hearings, Vol. II)

Senate Civil Liberties Committee, 1939-1940. (See Hearings, parts 47, 50, 54, 62)

Temporary National Economic Committee, 1940. (See Hearings, ~~XX~~ part 30)

House Select Committee Investigating Interstate Migration, 1940. (See Hearings, parts 8, 10)

Contributing Editor, Rural Sociology, 1936-1940.

Principal publications of studies of significant areas:

A number of these appeared under the title "Mexican labor in the United States" (Univ. Calif. Press). Locations chosen for study included, Imperial Valley, California, leading cantaloupe producing area of U. S.
Valley of the South Platte, Colorado, leading sugar beet producing area of U. S.

Dimmit County, Winter Garden District, South Texas, leading bermuda onion producing area of United States.

Nueces County, Texas, leading cotton producing county of U.S. in 1930.

(Published separately under title "An American Mexican Frontier"

(Univ. North Carolina Press)

Arandas, Jalisco, Mexico. Community of peasant proprietors, a center of extensive emigration to the U.S.A., and repatriation.

Chicago and the Calumet region, leading rail, steel, and meat packing center of U.S.

Study of union organization among deck sailors on Pacific Coast. Published under title "Sailors Union of the Pacific" in 1923.

Study of farmers and laborers in agriculture under stresses of depression, drought, and mechanization. Dislocation, migration, and emergence of industrialized agriculture. "An American Exodus" 1939 (Lange and Taylor) Covers areas from Georgia to California.

Study of Power farming and labor displacement in the Cotton Belt. Published 1938 in Monthly Labor Review, v.46, pp. 595-607; 862-867.

Other studies include,

Migratory farm labor in the U.S. In Monthly Labor Review, v.44, pp.537-549.

Historical and contemporary background of agricultural labor in California. Rural Sociology. Sept. and Dec. 1936. (with Tom Vasey)

Paul Schuster Taylor (continued)

Patterns of agricultural labor migration within California. In Monthly labor review, v.47, pp. 980-990. (wth Edward J. Rowell).
Notes from the Field. In Land Policy Review, January 1942. A study in wheat and corn belts.
American hired man; his rise and decline. Due to appear in Land Policy Review, March, 1943.
Good-bye to the Homestead Farm. In Harpers, May 1941.
Mexicans north of the Rio Grande. Survey Graphic, May 1931.
San Francisco and the general strike. In Survey Graphic, September 1934.
(with Norman Gold)
Strike of the cotton pickers, California, 1933. In Hearings of the Senate Civil Liberties Committee, Part 54. (with Clark Kerr)